Cuban Sugar Workers Urge Castro Backing

Anti-Red Electrical Union Told To Close Ranks Behind Chief

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's success in keeping organized labor united behind his revolution appeared today to depend upon an ultimatum from the Red-led Sugar Workers Union to the restive Electrical Union.

The Sugar Workers Union in effect ordered anti-Communist leaders of the Electrical Union to close ranks behind the revolution.

The electricians staged the first open labor opposition to spreading Communist influence in the government by marching on the presidential palace Friday night shouting "Cuba si, Russia no."

The sugar workers, largest and most influential in the million-member Cuban Confederation of Workers, Sunday demanded that the Electrical Union condemn the organizers of the march as counter-revolutionaries.

The 500,000-member Sugar Workers Union, whose leadership is well spotted with left-wing extremists, called on the Electrical Union "to purge all who have sabotaged the nation and condemn the gang which organized the demonstration in front of the palace."

Castro whose security guard has been increased during the recent wave of opposition, has made no public statement on the noisy labor march.

Nor has there been any official disclosure of what was discussed in a dramatic meeting between Amaro Franginal, Electrical Union chief, and President Osvaldo Dorticos during the demonstration.

There were growing signs of some unrest among the sugar workers themselves. They are expected to be asked to take whopping pay cuts late this month in order to make Cuba's sugar sales profitable outside the now-closed U.S. market.

Raul Cepero Bonilla, minister of Commerce, disclosed that Cuba's world market sales commitments amount to 3.5 million tons—2 million of which are consigned to Communist China and the Soviet Union and which are not all payable in hard cash.

Voting Machines For Ohio Coming

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown predicted today that mandatory use of mechanical voting equipment is likely in Ohio in the not too distant future.

Brown told the opening session of the Ohio Association of Election Officials' convention that it is conceivable the 1961 Ohio General Assembly will be asked to consider legislation setting a target date for mandatory statewide use of mechanical voting and tabulating equipment.

He said that a target date would give election boards time to prepare for a transition to mechanical voting and tabulating equipment.

Pro-Red Grabs Reins As Assembly Flees

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Members of the Laotian National Assembly who fled to the right-wing rebel headquarters in Savannakhet voted to dissolve the day-old pro-Communist government of Quinim Pholsena.

Quinim, minister of information in the old neutralist regime who seized power in Vientiane when government leaders fled, declared defiantly today: "We will fight to the last bullet if they attack us."

Quinim indicated he would defy the assemblymen and possibly even King Vathana himself if the king comes out against the Vientiane regime.

The Soviet Union rushed arms and supplies by air to the leftists holding the capital, which is surrounded by right-wing pro-Western forces led by Gen. Phoumi Nosavan.

Neighboring Communist China and North Viet Nam are expected to lend their support to Quinim. He had just returned from Hanoi, North Viet Nam's capital when he seized power from a six-man junta and brought Laos its third change of government in four days.

The majority of the National Assembly, which fled to Gen. Phoumi's headquarters in Savannakhet, voted no confidence in Quinim's government Sunday night, according to a Savannakhet radio broadcast today.

It said the Vientiane government, which is still officially headed by neutralist Premier Souvanna Phouma but controlled by acting Premier Quinim, "is dissolved and stripped of all constitutional rights and powers."

Quinim took over the Laotian government Sunday from a military junta which had headed it for barely 24 hours.

Obscene Literature Conviction Upset

UPPER SANDUSKY, Ohio (AP)—The 3rd Ohio Court of Appeals, in a decision dated Saturday and received here today, set aside the conviction of Edward J. Wetzel on a charge of possession of obscene literature.

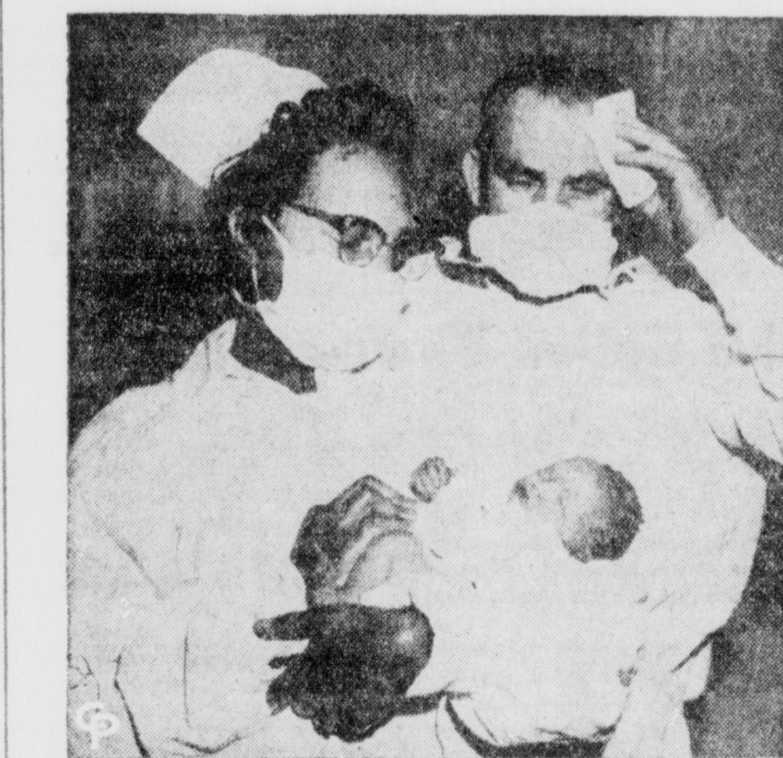

The literature was seized in a trailer at Carey last Feb. 9 and Wetzel was convicted in Allen County Common Pleas Court at Lima.

Wetzel pleaded that he wasn't aware of the alleged obscenity. The appellate court said, in part, that the Ohio Constitution "does not recognize any state power to restrict the dissemination of books not obscene, and we think this would tend seriously to have that effect even if they (booksellers) had no knowledge of the character of the books sold."

Distraught Boy, 14, Trudges 1 1/2 Miles in Pajamas in Snow

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A distraught 14-year-old Urbana boy, bemoaning the death of his sweetheart in a mysterious shooting in which he was wounded, took off from Children's Hospital here Sunday. Dressed in pajamas, he walked 1 1/2 miles in a driving snowstorm.

A nurse at the hospital said Walter Stone, picked up by police two hours later, had been crying for several days for his mother and for his girl friend, Louise Blosser, 17, killed Nov. 30 by a bullet in the head. The nurse said Walter had been talking about going home.

Sunday, his condition improved from critical to fair, Walter slipped past a nurse and went out the hospital door.

Later, he walked into a service station wearing sunglasses, raincoat, a plastic raincoat over his pajamas and carrying a cap. He told the attendant his dress was part of a fraternity initiation stunt.

The attendant called police when he saw the boy walk into an apartment building. He said he was afraid the boy's toy gun might scare some of the residents.

Police found Walter in the building, shivering and blue with cold. They took him back in the hospital where aides said he appeared none the worse for his excursion.

Walter was shot in the head with a .38 caliber pistol at his Urbana home. The Blosser girl, who police said had run away with him to Kentucky six weeks before in an unsuccessful attempt to get married, also was shot in the head and killed. They were found together in a bedroom.

Police said the bullet went through the girl's head and into Walter's. But there has been no official ruling as to who pulled the trigger and the case is still under investigation.

Grand premiere of "The Circleville Story", a full-length color motion picture about Roundtown, will be at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the Grand Theater.

The picture was filmed here in October by Reelfe Productions. It is to be shown for four days at the Grand, beginning Wednesday.

Circleville and its environs are covered completely in the film. It shows the city, industries, schools, farms, various local institutions and also features the 1959 Pumpkin Show and Sesquicentennial celebration.

Miss Marie Wilkin, Grand manager, said a Western film also will be shown. "The Circleville Story" will be screened at 8 p. m. each evening, Wednesday through Friday, and at another time Saturday.

Pacifist, 70, Is Freed, Still True to Belief

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Dr. Willard Uphaus, 70, freed from a New Hampshire jail, said today his beliefs "against tale-bearing or bearing false witness" are as strong as ever.

The controversial pacifist and former Methodist lay preacher was released unexpectedly from Merrimack County Jail in Boscawen, N. H., Sunday—two days before his scheduled departure.

Judge George R. Grant Jr. of New Hampshire Superior Court, ordered the release at the request of Uphaus' attorneys. His wife was on hand to greet him.

Uphaus issued a statement shortly after his arrival Sunday night, saying he had done "the only thing I could honorably have done."

He was jailed Dec. 14, 1959 for rejecting an official demand for names of those who attended a summer conference of the World Fellowship Center at Conway, N. H. Uphaus is executive director of the group.

The request was made in 1954 by New Hampshire Atty. Gen. Louis C. Wyman who said he had "reliable information" that some of the guests at the conference were Communists.

Uphaus denied this and refused to turn over guest lists.

Uphaus said he will begin making plans soon for another conference of the World Fellowship Center this summer.

Rickenbacker's Son Rips Up Census Form

NEW YORK (AP)—Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker's son has been subpoenaed to appear before a federal grand jury here Tuesday because he tore up what he called a "snooping" Census Bureau questionnaire.

William F. Rickenbacker, 34-year-old son of the Columbus, Ohio-born World War I hero, said he did not object to the government's right to count people. But he did protest a special questionnaire sent to every fourth home in the nation that asked, among other things:

How many bathrooms? What is the telephone number?

Writing in The National Review—a conservative magazine—youth Rickenbacker said:

"I have studied this snooping questionnaire. It does not relate to any constitutional requirement that I know of. . . I shall not answer it. Indeed, I have already torn it up."

Young Rickenbacker is an investment adviser and a regular contributor to the magazine.

First Major Snow Blankets County

First sizeable snow of the season struck Circleville and Pickaway County early yesterday.

Today bright sun glistened on the new snow and the low thermometer reading kept the white stuff intact.

Six auto accidents resulted from the freezing rain and snow yesterday and today. Two persons were hurt, one seriously.

Logan Elm schools were open, but all Teays Valley and Westfall schools were closed due to dangerous road conditions. City schools functioned normally.

The jingle-bell weather hampered transportation throughout the county. While Route 22 and 23 were open and classed as "not too bad", the rest of the roads were listed as treacherous.

MOST ROADS in the northern portion of the county were slippery, snow covered and there was some drifting. City streets were slick and snow covered.

The forecast is for clear and cold weather tonight and tomorrow. The low temperature is to be from 5-15 tonight and in the 20's tomorrow.

The local weatherman reported 2 1/2 inches of snow and 64 inches of precipitation during the weekend. He said the temperature reached a low of 14 and a high of 32.

Route 22 west of Circleville was one of the slipperiest highways in the county yesterday as two cars slipped off the road. Two persons were injured, one seriously.

Margaret Sparks, 43, West Portsmouth, suffered a fractured pelvis and a severe laceration of the left hip at 5:15 a. m. when the car in which she was riding plowed into guard railing on an

Herter Says NATO Shifts Are Inevitable

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter expressed confidence today in the ability of the North Atlantic Alliance to meet "the changing conditions of the coming decade."

In a statement prepared for his departure for an Allied foreign ministers conference at Paris, Herter made no specific reference to proposals for creating a separate NATO nuclear rocket striking force.

However, he was known to be taking with him a number of suggestions as to how such a force might be created.

These suggestions cover the possibility that the United States may provide Europe's NATO command with several hundred Polaris missiles which would be subject to use by NATO rather than U.S. decision.

As the spokesman for the outgoing Eisenhower administration, Herter will not be in a position in Paris to make any commitment about future U.S. policy when he meets with other ministers of the 16-18.

Final decisions will be up to President-elect John F. Kennedy after he takes office Jan. 20.

But Herter was expected to tell Allied leaders that he knows of no reason to believe Kennedy will not approve the project for a NATO nuclear force.

Third Toledo Area School Hit by Vandals

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Vandals smashed the interior of nearby Holland High School over the weekend, doing an estimated $1,000 damage.

Howard MacQueen, Springfield Twp. Board of Education clerk, said desks and chairs were overturned, walls splattered with ink and duplicating fluid, telephones ripped from walls, lights smashed and glass doors broken.

The school is the third to be vandalized in the township in recent weeks.

elevated section of highway one mile west of here. She was a passenger in a car driven by Kathleen M. Staten, 36, West Portsmouth.

Mrs. Sparks was rushed to Berger Hospital where she was reported in "serious" condition. Mrs. Staten was not injured.

Deputy Sheriff Dwight Radcliff said the Staten auto skidded on ice and snow and rammed into the guard rail. He said the car crashed part way through the barrier and was hanging about half way off the elevated highway.

Deputy Radcliff said it took wrecking crews quite a while to free the auto embedded in the railing.

Mrs. Staten told Deputy Radcliff she was traveling toward Portsmouth, but became confused at the Route 23 bypass here and turned onto Route 22 by mistake. She said her auto skidded out of control and struck the railing.

Radcliff said the auto was heavily damaged. He said the crash damaged 48 feet of guard rail.

THE SECOND accident came at 11:45 a. m. on Route 22 about six miles west of the city. Catherine Moran, 40, Milford suffered a Snow Plagues Eastern U.S.

Up to Foot Falls In Some Regions

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pre-winter snow-ice storm, sweeping out of the Southwest and across the midlands, struck damaging blows in the eastern part of the nation today.

The first heavy snow of the season, up to a foot in some areas, blanketed wide areas eastward to the Atlantic Coast and into parts of the South.

The snow, strong winds and freezing weather came 10 days before winter's official start.

The storm was blamed for at least 15 deaths over the weekend. Most of them resulted from traffic accidents on icy or snow-covered streets or from over-exertion while shoveling snow.

Nearly a foot of snow piled up in the western Maryland mountain region. In northern Virginia, with more than six inches on the ground, falls of a foot were predicted.

Snow measured nearly a foot in the West Virginia eastern Panhandle. Between 4 and 8 inches covered areas in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey and foot-high falls were in prospect in some sections of Pennsylvania.

Heavy snow was forecast from southeastern Pennsylvania northward into southern Maine.

Traffic was a mess in the big cities and the drifting snow was a virtual car-stopper in some rural sections.

Airline flights were canceled or delayed in some cities. Schools in many parts of Ohio and New Jersey and in suburban areas of Washington and Philadelphia were closed.

Buses operated throughout the storm-swept region but they were far behind schedule.

Washington struggled to clear streets of more than seven inches of snow, an unusually heavy fall for the nation's capital. Trouble calls from stranded motorists poured into emergency road service stations at the rate of 150-200 an hour. The Washington-New York pro football game in Griffith Stadium was delayed 45 minutes while workmen cleared drifts from the playing field.

Highland Representative Named to State Board

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Rep. James W. Collins, D-Highland, resigned and received appointment today to the State Board of Education for the Sixth District. He will serve until a successor is elected and qualified.

Gov. Michael V. DiSalle appointed Collins to replace Ward Miller of Portsmouth. Miller was elected Nov. 8 to a short term in Congress.

Stevenson To Be U.N. Ambassador

Bowles Given Post As Undersecretary In State Department

PALM BEACH Fla. (AP)—President-elect John F. Kennedy today picked Dean Rusk, head of the Rockefeller Foundation, to be his secretary of state.

Kennedy also announced at a news conference the appointment of Adlai Stevenson as ambassador to the United Nations.

And he named Rep. Chester Bowles, D-Conn., as undersecretary of state.

The three appointments were announced by the president-elect on the patio of his Atlantic shore home.

Rusk, a Democrat who served as an assistant secretary of state in the Truman administration, was at his side. Stevenson and Bowles were not present.

Kennedy offered the U.N. ambassadorship to Stevenson, the 1952 and 1956 Democratic presidential nominee, last week. But Stevenson asked for time to think it over—apparently wanting to know first who would be secretary of state.

The announcement of Stevenson's appointment meant, therefore, that he was willing to serve under Rusk.

Rusk, 51, is a native of Georgia and a Presbyterian. He has been head of the Rockefeller Foundation for nine years.

Kennedy, reading a prepared statement, said Rusk would bring to the new administration and his particular position a long record of ability in the field of foreign affairs.

The president-elect mentioned specifically Rusk's former association with the State Department.

On the new administration's foreign policy, Kennedy said he hoped that it will become generally identified with the concept of being "for freedom" and not simply "freedom," and not simply anti-Communist.

Rusk told the news conference he is accepting "a compelling and sober responsibility."

He called Stevenson "one of our greatest Americans," and also praised Bowles warmly.

Rusk said the present age is one of rapid and revolutionary change, but added that there need be no fear of the changes.

The United States, he added, cannot be likened to a cork tossed about on the waves.

In response to a question, Kennedy said he met Rusk for the first time last week.

Rusk arrived at Kennedy's ocean front home Sunday evening, but there was no word to reporters that he was on hand until this morning.

Kennedy said he and Rusk had both talked by telephone to Stevenson and Bowles.

Asked whether Stevenson was satisfied with the selection of Rusk for the top foreign policy post, Kennedy replied he is confident that the relationship is a satisfactory one to all concerned.

Kennedy said he plans to appoint another undersecretary of state—one who will have charge of economic affairs.

And he said he hopes to announce another Cabinet appointment by Wednesday.

Rusk's appointment is the first to one of what have been called the "big three" Cabinet posts. The others are secretary of the treasury and secretary of defense.

Judge Alters Jury Decision

A jury decision to award $15,000 to Mary France, Columbus, in a $75,000 damages suit has been cut to $7,500 by Judge William Ammer, Common Pleas Court.

Judge Ammer has ordered a remittitur in the case of Mary France vs. Lillie C. Seymour, Ashville, thus cutting the judgement from $15,000 to $7,500.

The damages suit was a follow-up to an accident occurring August, 1958. Mary France sought $75,000 for alleged injuries as a result of the accident.

Jury members returned their decision after a five - day session in court. They awarded Mrs. France $15,000—the largest sum ever returned by a jury in this type case for Pickaway County.

The reason for the remittitur, according to Tom Renick, attorney for the defense, was that the amount was too great for the alleged injuries.

Compromise Congo Peace Plan To Be Placed before U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Ceylon planned to lay a compromise peace plan for the Congo before the U.N. Security Council today.

Sir Claude Corea, the Ceylonese delegate, worked during the week-end in an attempt to find a middle ground for the Soviet bloc and West to deal jointly with the African crisis.

Diplomats connected with the 11-nation council said whatever resolution Corea might produce was the only hope for council action. They predicted that rival Soviet and Western resolutions introduced earlier would fall when put to the vote tonight or Tuesday.

The council was expected to reject the Soviet resolution—calling for the release of deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba, the disarming of Col. Joseph Mobutu's Congolese army and the withdrawal of all Belgian personnel from the Congo.

The Soviet Union was expected to veto the rival resolution sponsored by the United States, Britain, Italy and Argentina upholding human rights for all Congolese prisoners, expressing hope for Red Cross measures for their welfare and asking secretary-general Dag Hammarskjold to continue efforts for law and order in the Congo.

Corea has already told the council he aimed to propose that it (1) give Hammarskjold more power to keep order, (2) direct the U.N. force in the Congo to disarm illegal private armies, (3) call for Belgian withdrawal, (4) seek the release of all imprisoned Congolese political leaders and (5) promote a roundtable conference of these leaders and a new Parliament session.

Meanwhile, Indian Prime Minister Nehru said today Belgians are trying to create a new empire in the Congo with Congo army commander Col. Joseph Mobutu as their frontman.

"An attempt is being made to create a new kind of Belgian empire in the Congo," Nehru told Parliament.

He called on the United Nations to take a stronger stand against the Belgians. The U.N. has adopted a policy of nonintervention while the Congo "is going to pieces" he said.

CFD Called To Five Fires

The Circleville Fire Department answered four calls during the weekend and was still out on a call at 1 p. m. today.

The call today was at the James Moorehead residence on Triumvir Road. Chief Talmer Wise said the fire apparently was minor.

According to Wise his men could not find any blaze, but it was believed to be in the foundation of the house. They stayed at the scene to prevent flames.

At 7:05 p. m. yesterday the department was summoned to the home of P. E. Smith, 225 1/2 Lewis Road, a box of shotgun shells setting on top of a furnace exploded.

Wise said the exploding shells caused estimated at $100 to walls and ceiling next to the furnace.

At 5:15 p. m. yesterday a fire was discovered in the boiler room of the Laundromat on W. Main St. by Police Sgt. Roderick List. Wise said an oily mop and cloth next to a furnace ignited. He estimated damage at $25.

SANTA and the BOY FISH by Lucrece Hudgins Beale

SYNOPSIS: Costenbricker learns that Santa cannot help him in his search for the black pearl. He now regrets having put Santa's elves and reindeer to sleep. He tries to awaken them by chanting his magic formula. But, alas, he cannot remember the words!

CHAPTER SEVEN MICHAEL'S PLAN

Costenbricker sat with his head in his hands. "I can't remember the words that will break the spell," he muttered unhappily. "But you must!" cried Santa. "Think!"

"I am thinking," sighed Costenbricker. "But, as I told you, I am very old and I do not remember things as well as I did a hundred years ago. That is why I would like to have my black pearl. It will bring back my youth and my mind will be young and lively again."

Santa paced furiously up and down while Michael gazed horrified at the roomful of sleeping elves and Mrs. Claus fluttered her apron and moaned.

Suddenly Costenbricker's face lit up and he said sharply, "PEELS PEELS, EITTE SEE-VELE!"

All eyes turned and eagerly searched the room. But the elves slept peacefully on.

Costenbricker drooped again.

Slayer of Grandmother Is Ruled To Be Sane

MASSILLON, Ohio (AP)—Daniel P. Manweiler, 18, of East Greenville, charged with first degree murder and arson in the death of his grandmother, has been found sane by two court-appointed psychiatrists. The charges against the youth result from his allegedly setting fire to the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Koblenz, 86, here last July. She died in the blazing home. The youth's attorneys had entered a plea of insanity for him. Prosecutor Norman J. Putman said a date for Manweiler's trial will be set after Jan. 1.

Santa Writers Get Bonus

MALVERN, Pa. (AP)—There's a special box in the post office here for Santa Claus mail. Children drop in their letter, pull a lever and out jumps a lollipop.

"Please!" cried Michael. "Please let me try!"

he said dolefully and he twisted his parasol round and round and pondered some more.

Santa threw up his hands and Mrs. Santa collapsed in a chair. Michael stood in a corner and thought and thought. Finally he came up to Costenbricker and said, "Are you sure you would remember the words if you had your pearl?"

"Oh, absolutely," said Costenbricker nodding his head vigorously. "Then I will get the pearl," said Michael.

"What?" cried Santa. "Make me the flippers and lungs you promised and I can dive for the sunken treasure," said Michael, his eyes shining with excitement.

"Oh, dear," said Santa. "I meant for you to explore in the friendly seas near your home. To dive for sunken treasure would be dangerous. Who knows what lies in the ocean depths?"

"Please let me try!"

Santa gazed in distress at his

3 New Senators To Be Appointed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. John F. Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson intend to resign from the Senate shortly after the Electoral College makes their election as president and vice president official on Dec. 19.

The resignations will open the way for the Democratic governors of Massachusetts and Texas to appoint two new senators. Another appointment to the new Senate will be made by Wyoming's Democratic Gov. Joe Hickey. Republican Sen-elect Keith Thomson of Wyoming died Friday, apparently of a heart attack. Thomson, 41, was a member of the House.

sleeping dwarfs and the mountain of unfinished toys. At last he said, "Very well, I must let you go, for unless you succeed we can not have Christmas this year."

With Michael at his, he hurried into his own private work room at the end of the shop. Here were tools of every description and shelves of models, and barrels of tops and autos and boats and watches and a hundred other wonders.

On a nearby table were stacks of notebooks in which Santa kept, neatly listed the requests for gifts from every little boy and girl in the world. On his desk there were blue prints for a marvelous new toy he had planned to put in every Christmas stocking that year.

While Michael watched in wonder, Santa set about pulling out sheets of rubber, blocks of glass, and tubes of plastic. Motors whirled and chips flew as he cut, fitted and molded. He worked quickly and surely but even so it was a long time before the job was finished.

Finally he was ready. He strapped a small round tank on Michael's shoulders and showed him how to connect it by a breathing tube to a face mask. Then he gave him a pair of strong rubber flippers.

"There," he said, "You are now a Boyfish and anywhere a fish can go you can go, too."

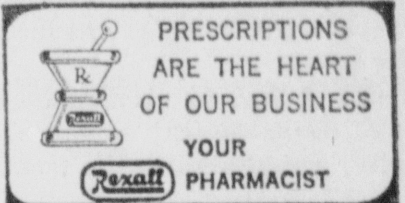

Michael examined his treasures. He could hardly wait to be away and at the bottom of the sea. Costenbricker, leaning unsteadily on his parasol, appeared at the door. "ready?" he asked.

"Wait a bit," said Santa. "I will get one of the reindeer to take you."

"The reindeer are asleep," Costenbricker reminded him sadly. "But no matter. I have my own means of transportation." With that he flung open the parasol at his side and said, "Come, Boyfish we are off!" (Tomorrow: A Perilous Trip)

Mind Doesn't Grow Old with Age

Dr. Mortimer J. Adler of San Francisco gave a talk to the Canadian Club of Toronto about what is perhaps the greatest education myth of them all — as if anything needed to be added to one of the most elaborate mythologies modern man has developed.

Dr. Adler, who is director of the Institute for Philosophical Research in his home city, would abolish the term "adult education."

"No one can become educated in school," he said. "If the schools followed a liberal arts tradition they should direct their energies for a life of learning, and not assume they turn out educated children with the granting of a degree."

In their excitement over convincing themselves that approach to education in this country is wrong, Americans jump at any hallucination. But the idea a university degree is an end in itself, a complete cultural package which can be dropped like a hot cake as the recipient moves on into his life's work, makes the whole process a bad joke.

A student leaves a university simply with the key to educating himself, in coordination with the experience of living, through books, inquiry and discussion.

"The Greeks," Dr. Adler pointed out, "understood leisure to be identical with learning and self-improvement. The mind does not grow old as the body grows old. The greatest power of growth of mind is after 35 or 40. The statement that only children can learn is fiction."

These are exciting and intelligent observations. But will they register on those who, crying out for a type of leisure which is nothing more than a vacuum of non-work, look to proliferating and cheap entertainment to fill their empty hours, instead of educating themselves through access to the storehouse of civilization's accumulated knowledge and inspiration?

Pity Cat with Hangdog Look

NEW YORK (AP)—It is hard to shake the self-confidence of a cat. But Lady Dottie, the cat who rules in our house, is no longer quite so sure of herself. She nearly lost her empire.

She is like a veteran politician who, after surviving a close election, isn't certain whether he loves the electorate for returning him to office—or hates it for scaring him to death.

Lady Dottie nipped our 7-year-old-daughter, Tracy Ann, in the face and, although I'm not sure it was altogether her fault, was punished and temporarily banned from the living room.

About this time someone gave us a pair of zebra finches. Their cheerful chirping turned Lady Dottie into a leering, stalking tigress.

Once the finches escaped from their cage and it was all we could do to save them from being pawed apart.

A family conference was called to order by the chairman of the board, my wife, Frances.

"This is making me nervous," she announced. "We'll have to send Lady Dottie away for a while—and, the way I feel about her right now, it may be forever."

"Oh, not forever," cried Tracy. "If you do she'll die—and I'll die, too."

Well, we did send her away to stay with a friend, who has a cat named Bruce. We thought he and Lady Dottie would be friends.

A few days passed. The new birds didn't seem so new. They came up with no fresh tunes.

"When you hear one bird, you've heard them all," said Frances. "It's kind of lonesome around here without Lady Dottie. I miss her."

The chairman of the board called another hurried family conference. It was decided to give the birds to our goddaughter and bring back the cat—on probation.

Well, Lady Dottie came back to an acclaim as wild as greeted Napoleon when he escaped from Elba and marched to Paris. We did everything except throw confetti at her.

But when the excitement of her return died down a brooding look came over her face.

"You sent me into exile once," her expression says. "Will you ever do it again?"

It's a bit sad to see a cat with a hangdog look, but I'm sure it won't last long. A good cat, like a good woman, never surrenders to time or fate.

Jack's Problem — Surpluses

Prior to the present harvest, the Government of the United States owned about 1,300,000,000 bushels of wheat. The 1960 crop increased this hoard. Altogether the surplus crops cost the taxpayer about $4,000,000,000 a year.

If there is to be a rationalization of government costs, something has to be done about farm surpluses. Whenever city persons write about agricultural problems, the farm experts contend that we do not know what we are talking about, which is an easy but meaningless answer. We do know that taxes are unconsciously high and that food prices are ridiculously high and that purchasing value of the dollar is low.

This the city dweller does know and he is not pleased about it. In fact, one of the first problems that the Kennedy Administration will have to tackle is the deterioration of urban life, the increase of slum areas, the rise of urban juvenile crime, the high cost of urban living and the blighting of suburban areas. When the cost of food exceeds the ability of a family to live on its income, whether from earnings or charity (now euphemistically called relief), social and moral conditions in cities deteriorate.

The maintenance of farm prices contributes to the high cost of food. At the same time, the stockpiling of food serves no useful purpose except to place an increasing burden of taxes upon the necks of a people whose currency is decreasing in value.

This, then, is what the country faces. The Eisenhower Administration has made no effort to deal with this problem, much less solve it. Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson made some startling moves, but he was unsupported by his colleagues who could not stand up against the waves of strongly expressed unpopularity. In fact, although what is known as the farm vote is no longer decisive as the 1960 election established, the historic memory on the subject differs from reality.

Actually, this problem cannot be contained in the Department of Agriculture. Any solution must include the State Department which must concern itself with protests from such countries as Canada (wheat and cheese) and Denmark (butter) that are worried over our dumping large quantities of surplus foods upon world markets or to feed the hungry in Asia and Africa who cannot afford to pay our prices.

It must include the Department of Commerce for identical reasons. It is no longer possible to deal with these broad problems as though they were the private domain of some official. Food is a national problem and the Treasury must have something to say about the value of our currency and the prospect of taxes.

In a word, when a country holds $4,000,000,000 of frozen crops it has so much of its liquid wealth tied up in a dead man's fist, which it cannot employ for useful purposes.

President-elect Kennedy's father, Joseph, was a member of both Hoover Commissions which made a very serious attempt to find out what was wrong with a paralyzed executive branch of government that could not deal with problems that faced it and that required immediate action. Brother Robert was a member of the staff of one of the Hoover Commissions. It is to be hoped that some of the findings and some of the conclusions are retained in the memories of these men and of Jack who, as Senator, handled some of the bills proposed for enactment.

At any rate, a vast amount of material is available in these commissions which can be useful in handling these particular problems to the benefit of both the urban and the rural populations.

Poverty, in a rich country such as ours still is, can only be the product of a family organization and bad distribution. These can be corrected by keen minds and strong wills. President Kennedy cannot fall back either on the needs of the Roosevelt Administration or the inability of the Eisenhower Administration to act. He will have to make a new agricultural program of his own, consistent with his general economic program, progressive and daring and related to the welfare of both the urban and rural populations.

If he cannot do this, the big cities will be in trouble and so will Mr. Kennedy.

As the population switch has been to the big cities, this situation will have to be dealt with realistically.

A WINDY POLITICIAN recently startled an audience of university students by introducing Carl Sandburg as "the poet lariat of Chicago." Governor To Send 2 Budgets To Next Ohio Legislature

COLUMBUS Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle is drafting only two state operating budgets for the new Republican-controlled legislature.

One is geared to available revenues; the other to what he regards as state needs.

Two years ago, when Democrats dominated the legislature, the governor offered a choice of four programs.

They ranged from cutbacks to a far more liberal expansion of welfare, education and other services than the 103rd General Assembly ultimately approved.

The third of a billion dollar tax increase finally voted by the 1959 legislature became a major issue in the 1960 election campaign that led to a setback for Ohio Democrats.

"I heard it all through the campaign," DiSalle recalls.

He explains that business leaders, mainly Republicans, are complimentary about his improvements in mental health, highways and other programs.

"But they are just opposed to raising the money for them," he adds. "Somehow they have the feeling that this is all waste."

"Maybe we can eliminate some wasteful practices—such as education," he observes caustically.

Executive budgets seldom emerge from the legislative mill without extensive changes. GOP leaders indicate that the session convening Jan. 2 will be no exception. They promise an item by item combing.

The always difficult task of financing state operations is complicated by late financial reports showing revenues lagging at least $7.5 million behind estimates for fiscal 1961.

Adding to financial woes are built-in increases for such things as mounting public school enrollments and aid to the aged, blind and dependent children. And the state may need another $14 million dollars to meet its matching obligations to local governments for the bookkeeping year.

The situation makes tax cuts, talked about in some quarters, appear unlikely. DiSalle says he will not veto any tax cuts. But he will place on their doorstep the responsibility for reduced services blamed to tax shaving.

The governor expects to send his budget proposals to the legislature far earlier than the mid-March presentation two years ago. That step also would place on Republicans the blame for a protracted session. The last ran into August.

Since adjournment cannot be taken until the big money bill is passed, early submission of the budget would remove any excuse that it wasn't received in time to prevent a late adjournment.

The World Today

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Diplomatic Writer
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Congo crisis has uncovered two dangerous weaknesses in the United Nations. If not corrected soon, they can render the world organization powerless to deal with this crisis or any other.

One weakness is financial. The other is a matter of prestige. Both arise out of the efforts of the United Nations to restore order in the turbulent, former Belgian territory.

Officials in Washington are not sure which situation offers the most serious threat. They are deeply worried about both, because the United States is relying on the United Nations to serve as a major instrument of its aims in Africa. These aims in general are to promote the growth of African states as independent nations not subject to control from either Western capitals or Moscow.

If these purposes cannot be realized through the United Nations, American leaders fear what may happen. They believe that not only the Congo but also other African lands would become involved in a fierce, gloves-off struggle between the Western powers and the Sino-Soviet bloc. This may happen anyway, in spite of the best U. N. efforts.

The present grave dangers in the Congo situation are these:

1. The cost of the United Nations operations there to date total about $65 million. The only way Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld can get the money is from member nations, either by assessments voted by them or by some other system of contribution.

The process is essentially a voluntary one. The problem of raising the $65 million and of providing for still higher 1961 costs has been under discussion, formally and informally, for weeks. Many differences have developed among U. N. members. Even if they finally agree on a formula it may not be adequate to meet the needs for funds.

2. The first responsibility of the United Nations in the Congo has been to restore and maintain order. Its effectiveness there is dependent on physical force. Its troops are drawn from more than two dozen member nations.

Four of the nations which contributed to the force—the United Arab Republic, Ceylon, Yugoslavia, and Indonesia—have stated their intentions to withdraw their contingents, a total of 1,699 men. Ghana was reported to be considering the withdrawal of its 1,185 men. Such withdrawals, though numerically small, would constitute a serious blow to U. N. prestige.

The troop problem and to a large degree the financial problem arise out of the worldwide split between the Western powers and the Sino-Soviet bloc. They are also influenced by the bold enmities and passions clustered around the issue of Western colonialism.

Without funds the United Nations cannot carry out its Congo mission much longer. Neither can it do so without sufficient troops. The choice facing many U. N. members is whether their immediate individual goals are more important to them than is their long-range general interest in maintaining the United Nations as a going concern.

Unemployment will be one of the first concerns of the Kennedy administration. Jobs for about eighteen hundred Democrats.

Observers think there will be a good many Republicans in the new administration. After all, there must be about as many Kennedy Republicans as Nixon Democrats.

The stage is set for a clash in Congress between Kennedy supporters and conservatives. There seems to be a difference of opinion on what constitutes going forward and a left turn.

If the Democratic conservatives side with the Republicans, it will constitute a revolt. The Kennedy supporters are just waiting to see how revolting they can get.

G. Guy Campbell To Retire On MD's Order — Dated 1936

G. GUY CAMPBELL

A doctor told him 24 years ago that he would have to quit. He is just now taking that advice. After all, 72 years on the job should be about enough.

That is the feeling of G. Guy Campbell, 80-year-old proprietor of Circle Press, and one of the last old-school master printers.

Campbell has sold his commercial printing business at 122 S. Court St. to Lewis Brevard, a youngster about half Campbell's age who makes his home on Route 3, Circleville.

Brevard is no newcomer to either Circleville or the printing business. He formerly was superintendent of Advocate Press here, has been employed by the U. S. Government Printing Office in Washington, D. C., and most recently has been employed by an educational publication concern in Columbus.

Campbell, a past president of Circleville Kiwanis Club, came here in 1936 — after an Indiana doctor took a look at the printer's ailing heart and told him his days were over as a working man.

At that time, Campbell was the editor and publisher of the Brownsburg (Ind.) Record. While still in his sickbed, he sold his newspaper holdings. But his health recovered and he started looking for something to do. His search led to Circleville and the founding of Circle Press.

In his Indiana newspapering days, Campbell was president of that state's Weekly Press Assn., and served with such publications as the Indianapolis News, Indianapolis Sentinel and the Kempton Courier.

Campbell's career as a printer started at the age of eight when his father bought him a hand press and some rubber type in his native Ft. Recovery, Mercer County, Ohio.

At the age of 11, he was setting type for one dollar a week for the Ft. Recovery Journal. He also served as janitor and reporter. The latter assignment included checking all arriving visitors at the local railroad depot.

Campbell started out early in life, but so did a son, Robert, now editor of the same Brownsburg Record his father published. At the age of nine, Robert was widely publicized as "the world's youngest editor." He was editor publisher and sole printer of a monthly called "Hooster Boy."

Another son, Don, is business editor of the Indianapolis Star and author of a book on securities entitled "Let's Take Stock."

Campbell, along with his wife, Vangie, will be making his home at 141 W. Franklin St., which they recently purchased.

This near-downtown location will enable the old printer to continue contact with the business community and to remain available to advise fledgling printers. Where could they find a man with more experience?

Sportsman's Request
CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—

Soon after Dexter Van Zant, Tennessee softball commissioner, died recently, Chattanooga sportsman Ernest Holt approached the City Commission with a request.

Would they, he asked, change the name of Holt Field — named for him — to Van Zant Field, in honor of Van Zant, a veteran Chattanooga News-Free Press sports writer? The commission complied with Holt's sportsman-like request.

2 American Adventurers Forgotten in Cuban Jails

HAVANA (AP) — Among the estimated 15,000 political prisoners crowded inside Cuba's jail and prisons today, two American aerial adventurers are forgotten men.

William J. Shergalis, 33, of West Hollywood, Fla., and Euclid, Ohio, and Louis Rundquist, 35, of San Rafael, Calif., and Miami, have been held almost nine months — without charges or trial.

They have little hope of being released soon from Matanzas Military Prison, where they are kept incommunicado. Some Cubans reportedly have been held even longer without trial.

At dawn last March 25, Shergalis and Rundquist landed their single-engine light plane on a highway in Matanzas, the province just east of Havana.

The civilian pilots told their captors of becoming lost on a flying fishing trip to Varadero, a seaside resort 22 miles northeast of Matanzas City.

But the Cuban authorities who seized them, with a burst of machinegun fire that wounded Rundquist in the foot, said the two Americans were ferrying out "war criminals" at a price.

The government made their capture a propaganda item, saying it was further proof of U.S. aggression against Cuba.

Abrupt silence followed when Washington announced it had a signed affidavit in which Shergalis said the clandestine flight was arranged in Miami by agents of the Fidel Castro government to embarrass the United States.

The U.S. embassy welfare officer has asked again and again to see Shergalis and Rundquist. But ever since Shergalis' affidavit was disclosed, the embassy requests have gone unanswered.

Government authorities in Matananzas will not discuss the case or say when the two are likely to be tried. As far as the Cuban public is concerned, the two fliers are buried and forgotten beyond the walls of Matanzas' San Sebastian prison. Their only visitor has been a Miami woman who says she is Shergalis' wife.

As the mass of political prisoners in Cuba grows, observers say the treatment of prisoners becomes more inhuman and dangerous. Conditions are so bad that some prisoners have smuggled out appeals asking the Human Rights Commission of the United Nations to investigate.

This is especially true of the notorious prison center on the Isle of Pines, 30 miles off the southwest Cuban coast in the Gulf of Batabano.

More than 6,000 persons are reported held there in quarters designed to hold 4,500 at most.

One Cuban businessman who visited his son, serving a long term on the Isle of Pines for counterrevolutionary activity, said when he got back:

"Much of the time the prisoners cannot eat the food they receive. Except for food sent in by their families, many of them would not survive."

Mrs. Charles Kettlerwell, New Concord, cousin of the bride presented prelude of wedding music.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her father, chose for her marriage a gown of beau tefea.

The pointed basque bodice was designed with a scalloped portrait neckline, applied with re-embroidered alencon lace, enhanced with iridescent and pearls and long sleeves that tapered over her hands.

The bouffant skirt was accented with matching lace appliques and fell gracefully into a wide circular chapel train.

Her fingertip bouffant veil of imported French bridal silk illusion was caught to a princess crown of pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of white snowdrift pompons centered with white gardenias.

Their gowns and veils were identical in style and color to the gown worn by the matron of honor. They carried cascades of white snow-drift pompons centered with blue gardenias.

The white gloves and sterling silver bracelets the attendants wore were gifts of the bride.

Miss Kathy Janes, niece of the bride was flowergirl. Her floor-length gown was identical to those worn by the other attendants. She carried a basket filled with rose petals.

Mr. Sanford Kellenberger was best man for his brother, Mr. Bradley Smith, Columbus, Mrs. Sheldon Torril, Marietta, Mr. Willard McCarty, Chillicothe and Mrs. Tom Haynes, Nephew of the bridegroom seated the guests.

Miss Nancy Rayburn was in charge of the guest book.

A reception for 350 guests was held in the church social room.

New Approach To Bridge

A new book on the market makes a game of learning the game of bridge. It was written by Charles Goren for people who swear they can never learn to play.

This pessimistic sort of pupil reads page 1, then takes a quiz. If he replies that bridge is played with jokers in the deck, he is advised to read page 6. However, if he answers "52 cards, no jokers," he progresses to page 11. Those turning to page 2 are scolded and sent back to "go".

Purpose of this unusual teaching formula is to prevent skimming from page to page without understanding or making progress.

The book, "Elements of Bridge", was published by Tutor - Text.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

The Age of Unreason!

DEAR ABBY: What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?

I was married to a man for 21 years. I loved him and tried my best to be a good wife and mother. I was happy and thought he was, too.

Out of the blue he told me he was in love with another woman. He packed up and moved out. He left me six months' pregnant with a 14-month-old baby and four older children. The woman he left me for is 12 years younger than I am. He met her at work. She knows our religion doesn't allow divorce and remarriage but she doesn't care. My husband is begging me for a divorce. My heart says no. My friends say yes. I'm all mixed up.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR BROKEN-HEARTED: The answer to your first question, "What causes a man to leave his wife, children, home and church for another woman?" is "Temporary insanity." This sometimes passes for "love." Don't make any decisions while you are in an emotional tumult. Your husband may find his way back to the world of reality soon. In the meantime, tell him "No divorce!"

DEAR ABBY: When a hostess has a party and some guests bring other people, and a card table has to be set up in addition to the big dining room table which seats 14, WHO should sit at the card table? My husband says the "extra guests" who were not invited by us. I say my husband should sit at the big table and I should sit at the little one.

NOISE AT OUR HOUSE

DEAR NOISE: In the case of TWO tables—the host should sit at one and the hostess at the other.

DEAR ABBY: A boy wrote in telling you he thought it was a "sin" for his mother, who was 44, to have a baby. Well, I don't think it's a "sin", but I have news for you—I doubt if any woman in her right mind would go in for it, at age 44, on purpose.

I am 42 and have a new grandchild. My daughter went on a trip and I am caring for her baby. I've been up for three days and three nights and I can't see straight—but the baby is still going strong. Women past 40 should leave well enough alone, and let the younger ones increase the population. I have no sympathy for them, and neither will their husbands. They'll sleep through it all.

Eaton To Seek Khrush's Terms

Ohioan To Ask Price For Ending Cold War

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cyrus Eaton says he is planning a trip to Moscow to learn specifically on what conditions the Communists would end the cold war.

The millionaire Cleveland industrialist made the announcement Friday, less than 24 hours after he returned home from the Russian capital where he attended a weeklong meeting of the Pugwash Conference of Scientists from 15 nations.

He saw Nikita Khrushchev only briefly because the Soviet premier was confined to bed with a cold.

"I want to go back when he is feeling himself and can have more time for discussion of details than has been possible in the past," Eaton said.

He said he might possibly make his next trip early in 1961.

"The longer we put off ending the cold war, the more expensive it will be for us . . ." Eaton said. "The time is now here when someone should know what they (the Communists) will do. I would like to know that and be able to tell the world what was—but to do so after I had plenty of time and study to reflect on it.

"It seems to me it wouldn't do the world any harm to see outlined the conditions that the Soviets would accept or to have a western businessman saying what he thought would be a reasonable plan."

Eaton said he was not thinking of "taking the place of government conference." He expressed the opinion that someone not running for office would have the advantage of not having "to appeal to the prevailing prejudices."

Large gatherings of people, he added, "don't get down to serious discussion of what the compromises have got to be," but tend to talk for headlines.

77 Sunset Strip Star Tells Why He's Happy with Setup

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Brett Maverick loped off the Warner range. So did Cheyenne, Kookie and others from time to time. But Stuart Bailey always stuck to his office at 77 Sunset Strip.

This may be a lesson in how to deal with feudalistic studios. Bailey, known off the TV tube as Erem Zimbalist Jr., is now doing a prize role in a bigtime movie, "By Love Possessed," while his fellow stars are still fighting it out in the courts or in their series.

How did Zimbalist get out of the stir?

"Simple," he replied. "I simply gave the studio four years of my life."

During that time, he worked almost continuously and uncompromisingly in the Friday night whodunit. "I didn't see any good in complaining," he reasoned. "Besides, I like Jack Warner."

Zimbalist admitted there were times when he might have gotten restless. While he was grinding out the TV hours, other studios sought his services in feature films.

"But what did I miss?" he asked. "I missed 'Butterfield 8,' but I'm not sure that would have done me good. 'Portrait in Black' didn't turn out too well. It was the same with most of the other pictures I could have done."

He is obviously pleased with "By Love Possessed," as well he should be. The James Gould Cozens novel has been expensively cast with Zimbalist as the small-town lawyer and co-stars Lana Turner, Jason Robards Jr., George Hamilton, Susan Kohner, Barbara Bel Geddes, Thomas Mitchell.

And what happens after Zimbalist finishes the film?

"I go right back to '77 Sunset Strip,'" he reported. "I'll have six more shows this season in which I play the major role, plus a lot of others in which I do bits and pieces."

"I don't mind. The show has been good for me. This year we have more help (Richard Long has been added to sleuths Zimbalist, Roger Smith, Edd Byrnes), so I'm able to do a feature now and then. That's one of the concessions they gave me. And that's another reason I'm glad I've never raised a fuss with the studio."

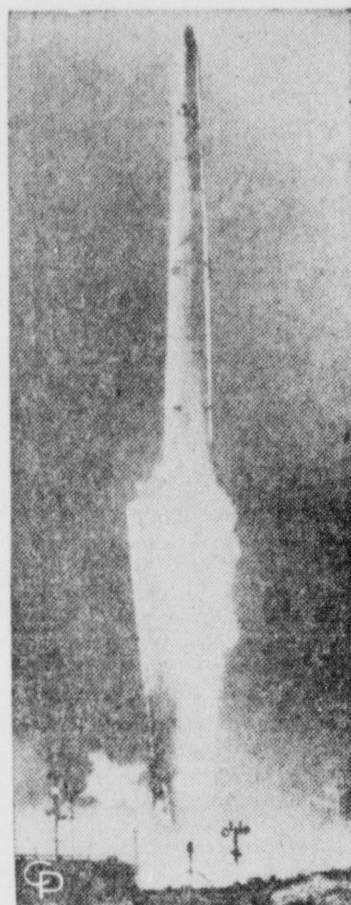

Youngstown Club Owner Held for Shooting Man

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Oliver Patterson, 63, owner of a North Side social club, is under police guard at St. Elizabeth Hospital in connection with the fatal shooting of a 33-year-old man at the club. Dr. Nathan D. Belinky, Mahoning County deputy coroner, returned a verdict of homicide in the death of Sidke Muwalle early Sunday. Patterson was wounded in the hand.

Police said the shooting followed an argument between Patterson and Muwalle, who returned to the club after being evicted.

Geauga Jail Escapee Is Back Behind Bars

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—Richard P. Stalzer, 22, who escaped from the Geauga County jail here last Tuesday by tearing a hole in a cell wall, was back in jail today. He was arrested Sunday at the home of his wife, Jane, in Cleveland. He is being held for the grand jury on a charge of assault on a 17-year-old Cleveland girl.

Idle List Casts Shadow Across Nation's Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—Rising unemployment cast a darkening shadow across the economy this week.

Indications were that the problem will get worse before it gets better.

The Labor Department reported that unemployment has increased in three-fifths of the nation's 150 industrial centers.

It called joblessness substantial in 51 areas, compared with 32 in November 1959.

The department labels the number of idle substantial when it exceeds six per cent of the local labor force.

Reclassified as areas of substantial unemployment were in Indiana, Washington, Ohio, West Virginia and California.

Principal cutbacks were in steel, aircraft, aluminum and other durable goods manufacturing.

Unemployment in November was estimated at four million. Labor department officials said they expect the total to exceed five million by January.

Four big steel companies reduced supplemental unemployment benefits to furloughed workers because of a heavy drain on the funds.

President-elect John F. Kennedy appointed a task force headed by Sen. Paul H. Douglas D-Ill. to devise means of helping depressed areas.

Three nongovernmental economists told a congressional committee that the country is in a recession but it is too early to tell how severe it is. Two government experts declined to term the situation a recession but agreed that conditions are sluggish.

A National Industrial Conference Board survey indicated that consumers have sharply increased their buying plans since the election, apparently expecting an era of easier credit.

Chairman Roger Blough of U.S. Steel Corp. said prospects of an increased operating rate for the steel industry are improving. He expressed the opinion that steel inventories of customers are as low now as they were at the end of the 1959 steel strike.

However, steel output dipped again this week to an estimated 48.3 per cent of capacity from 48.9 last week.

New passenger car sales in November totaled 529,300, equaling the record November 1955. Expectations are that December sales will push the year's total to between 6.1 million and 6.2 million, which would be third best in history.

Production this week totaled an estimated 138,000, up from last week's 135,460.

Colder weather sparked the slow - starting Christmas buying to an appreciable increase over last week but volume fell two to six per cent below a year ago.

Wholesale food prices, which had increased for six straight weeks, leveled off this week at their 1960 high.

Volume on the New York Stock Exchange for the past week amounted to 18,314,785 shares compared with 16,808,950 the previous week. Bond shares on the exchange last week totaled $30,962,000 par value against $30,000,000 the week before.

Briefly around the business scene: The average American family will spend $147 on Christmas gifts, according to a survey by Chicago Printed String Co. . . Boeing Airplane Co. plans to build 80 three-engine, medium-range jet airliners. . . Montgomery Ward & Co. is trying out automatic merchandisers which dispense goods and make change for bills and coins. . . Heavy construction contract awards for the year to date total $11,682,900,000, up 14 per cent over last year. . . A railroad tradition of official pocket watches went by the boards when the New York Central approved use of wrist watches.

14 in North Randall Nabbed in Vice Raid

CLEVELAND (AP) — Police of suburban North Randall arrested 14 persons in a gambling raid Sunday night at 21920 Emory Road. Among those seized was Irwin (Red) Mason, 56, of Cleveland. Police here said he had been arrested more than 20 times for keeping gambling rooms. They described Mason as the proprietor of Cleveland's oldest floating poker game.

Those rounded up by the six policemen conducting the raid were taken to the North Randall Village Hall for questioning.

Mother Honored

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A six-foot bronze statue, "The Immigrant Mother," has been unveiled in Cathedral Square.

The statue is a $30,000 gift to Milwaukee County from William George Bruce, founder of the Bruce Publishing Co., who died in 1949.

Tiger Wrestlers Trim Panthers For Second Win

Circleville's explosive wrestling team captured its second win in two starts here Saturday by beating a 26-13 victory over Pleasant View.

The issue remained in doubt until the next to the last match. Ron Cain of Circleville put the win on ice with his crucial pin in the 175-pound class.

Until Cain's verdict, Circleville led by only 18-13. Any combination of decisions or wins in the last two bouts could have given the visiting Panthers an edge. However, Cain put the score out of reach with his solid pin over Kunz of PV.

Browns' Kids Do OK in Rout Of Bad Bears

CLEVELAND (AP)—Untested youngsters in the defensive backfield were going to hurt the Cleveland Browns this season the experts said early in September. They were dead wrong.

The Browns' fleet aerial defenders have swiped 29 passes this year—three better than the club's previous best in the National Football League. Seven of these thefts came Sunday.

At the expense of frustrated Chicago quarterbacks Ed Brown and Zike Bratkowski, the Cleveland ballhawks had a field day, running three of the seven back for touchdowns and setting up a fourth TD.

It all added up to a 42-0 victory in Cleveland's final home game this season before 38,155 shivering fans. It was the worst defeat for the Bears in their long history and the Browns' largest margin of victory since a 62-3 trouncing of Washington in 1954.

The seven interceptions were run back a total of 213 yards, bettering the NFL record of 182 by Los Angeles on six steals in 1952.

Rookie Bobby Franklin pilfered three passes and dashed 37 and 31 yards for touchdowns. Bernie Parrish, who grabbed two, started the defensive backfield's big day with a 92-yard run to paydirt. Jim Shofner, the "veteran" in his third season, also stole a pair of passes.

Eighty seconds after Parrish took off on the longest pass interception run in Cleveland's history, Franklin made his first touchdown steal. The Browns were out front 21-0 and the rout was on. It was 28-0 at the half.

Miteff Cancels Cleveland Bout

CLEVELAND (AP)—Complaining of sore eyes, Alex Miteff of Argentina has pulled out of a 10-rounder scheduled for Tuesday night against Pete Rademacher of Besmanoff, 28-year-old Milwaukee heavyweight, will fight in Miteff's place.

Miteff took some heavy late round punches to the head last Tuesday in losing to Henry Cooper in London, England. Sunday, when he showed up here for a physical examination Miteff said he didn't feel ready to go through with Tuesday's bout.

He said he took too much sun lamp treatment trying to heal the bumps over his eyes.

"It hurts me. I don't sleep for two nights," he said. "I want to fight Rademacher, but not Tuesday."

Bob Barnett Leads Sunday Mixed Loop

Bob Barnett's 257 single and 547 series paced Sunday Mixed bowling at Circleville D Recreation. John Dietrich rolled a 535 series and Jack Melvin a 526. Mary Noble's 481 was high series for the women, followed by Betty Dean's 467.

Richmond outfielder Don Lock hit 35 homers for Birmingham, N. Y., last season. His total set an Eastern League record.

Walnut Downs Amanda Cagers In 70-64 Contest

Tigers Are Victors

Walnut Twp. protected its undefeated record Saturday night with a 70-64 victory over previously undefeated Amanda - Clearcreek.

Amanda led for three quarters before host Walnut came up with a mighty surge in the last period. The Tigers exploded for 23 points in the frame while the best Amanda could do was 12.

The Aces lost the lead at 63-62 and from then on it was all Walnut. Ray White was a vital cog with his 19 points and solid rebounding.

Walnut's Tom Harber maintained his 20 plus average by hitting for 22 points to go along with 18 rebounds. Larry Leist added 11 points and Bill Hoover 10.

AMANDA - CLEARCREEK displayed a balanced scoring attack with five players hitting double figures. Anderson showed the way with 13. Brown and Gussett had 12 each and Williams and Davis 10 each.

It marked the fifth straight win for Walnut, setting the stage for the Tigers' game Friday at Logan Elm. The Braves upset Ashville Friday, 55-53.

Amanda salvaged Saturday's reserve contest with a 51-33 victory.

Logan Elm's Chuck Spangler kept the Braves running with 24 points, high for the evening. Damon Fox and Willey finished with seven each.

Furness and Clemans notched 15 each for The Plains. Merritt added 10.

Logan Elm made it a clean sweep by taking the reserve test, 47-28. Danny Hicks paced the winners with 16 markers and Crawford had 11 for the losers.

Tigers Drop 75-43 Contest To Adept Chillicothe Five

A speedy and sure - firing Chillicothe cage unit handed visiting Circleville a 75-43 loss Saturday night.

The Cavaliers, using all their hardwood adaptiveness, swept to their fourth straight win. Chillicothe, fighting to the end, dropped its third in four tries.

The Cavaliers displayed amazing accuracy from the field and at the foul line. They hit 19 of 23 foul shots and potted 28 of 64 goal attempts for a 43.7 per cent average.

Circleville worked loose for about as many shots as the hosts, but was off the mark for the evening. The locals finished with 16 of 61 field attempts for a cool 26.2 per cent, although several times they penetrated the Chillicothe defense with slick maneuvering.

A vital cog in the Cavalier win was Gary Hall who served as a one - man wrecking crew. He ended the evening with 28 points.

Hall worked over the nets from all angles and was deadly as a cobra at the foul line where he made 10 out 10. The 5-10 cager also shined on defense and as a playmaker.

Dick Kline, a junior, was Circleville's chief scoring weapon with 15 points. Several of his six buckets resulted from some fine play underneath and off the boards.

Sam Weller, another junior, continued his steady scoring with 11 markers. The CHS performer possibly could have scored more, but ran into trouble early by committing his fifth foul about mid way in the third quarter.

Bruce Barnes who sparked the Tigers Friday night at Washington C. H. was a little off the mark. He scored only four points but displayed some kangaroo leaping for a good show of rebounding.

The game was tight in the first few minutes as Clesson Thomas and Weller pushed the Tigers into a 5-4 lead. Hall put Chillicothe ahead with a drive and a foul toss, but Barnes quickly knotted it at 7-7 with a hook.

From that point on Chillicothe started pulling away, with Hall doing a major share of the damage. The Cavalier rush produced a 21-9 advantage at the end of the first quarter.

THE Cavalier tide continued on into the second canto as the hosts went on to build up a 38-19 margin at halftime. Again it was Hall leading the way in addition to some scoring help from replacement Bob Burns.

By the end of the third period, the Cavaliers had moved out front, 69-34. In this quarter Bob Patterson teamed up with Hall to set the point producing pace for the Cavaliers.

Scoring slackened in the final period with Chillicothe getting six points and Circleville nine.

Circleville lost both ends of the doubleheader as the reserve Kittens dropped a 54-23 decision to the young Cavaliers.

The reserves looked to an 8-7 first quarter lead, but suddenly cooled at intermission.

The hosts continued their surge in the last two quarters, especially in the finale when they hit for 23 points.

FREDDIE Moore again was the leading pointmaker for the reservists with his 14 points. John Glanton was high for Chillicothe with 16.

Circleville's next game is Friday when Pleasant View comes here for an SCO league game. The following Friday the locals go to Miami Trace for their last game before the Christmas Holidays.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, E. Martin Hoover, who passed away 9 years ago December 11, 1951.

The rolling stream of life rolls on. But still the vacant chair. Recalls the love, the voice, the smile, of the one who once sat there.

Sadly missed by his family

BUCKEYES' MR. BASKETBALL—That fabulous Ohio State cager, Jerry Lucas, who made the All-American team as a soph last year and then led the U. S. Olympic squad to triumph, is back again and dazzling cage audiences with his shooting ability and all-around play. Lucas, kingly of the Ohio State team, which is coached by Fred Taylor and which won the N.C.A.A. crown last season, is a good student, too. He's 6'8". (Continued Press)

OSU, Bradley Still Loom as Teams To Beat

2 Outfits Could Meet In NCAA Tournament At End of Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio State, led by All America Jerry Lucas, has done nothing to shake the idea the Buckeyes are the team to beat for the Big Ten basketball championship again this year—and perhaps the NCAA crown for the second consecutive season.

There is another Mid-western outfit that might challenge Ohio State when the tournaments roll around next March. Bradley is the name, and rivals in New York's National Invitation tournament are well aware of it.

Ohio State pulverized Army Saturday, 103-54 for its third straight victory after fairly easy wins over Ohio University and St. Louis. The Bucks, loaded with talent, had four players scoring in double figures, Lucas tops with 29.

Bradley, also undefeated, had a little more trouble, but pulled away in the final four minutes to defeat Butler 71-65. Previously, Bradley beat Minnesota and the California Aggies. Bradley has been going along as runner-up to Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference, but it looks as if the Braves could make the grade this time. That would put them in the NCAA, and could bring a tournament summit meeting with Ohio State if things follow the script.

Wichita and Drake, who are unbeaten and could make it tough in the Missouri Valley race for Bradley, also won. Wichita clipped Iowa State 75-58, while Drake downed Michigan 83-72.

Illinois and Michigan State, also unbeaten in the Big Ten, were idle Saturday. The Illinois meet Colorado, 71-57 winner over Oregon Saturday, tonight at Boulder.

Detroit won over Indiana 81-79 in double overtime on Tom Villumure's 20-foot corner set shot in the final second. Maryland also invaded Big Ten territory and bounced Minnesota around 64-53.

Maryland and North Carolina State are 4-0 in the Atlantic Coast Conference, where a tight race looms. Duke (3-0) and North Carolina (2-0) also are to be reckoned with. Duke defeated West Virginia 66-64, and N.C. State downed The Citadel 88-71, with North Carolina dle but meeting Kentucky Tuesday.

Gary Cunningham scored 24 points to lead UCLA to a 93-69 victory over barnstorming New York University. Kansas State stopped Southern California 66-57. Touring Miami (Fla.) ran into a buzzsaw as Brigham Young won 112-80, and Utah scuttled Texas Christian 101-55. Wyoming also added to the woes of Southwest conference teams, beating Baylor 58-52, while Tulane took Texas 63-49.

Arkansas managed a 77-71 victory over Mississippi, and Oklahoma State finally lost, with Tulsa the victor 59-57. Rice beat LSU 67-50.

St. Bonaventure rallied to make it 4-0 by defeating Eastern Kentucky 78-69, and Niagara also came from behind to beat LaSalle 77-71.

The Bluegrass festival tournament opens tonight at Louisville with Western Kentucky (4-0) meeting Utah State (2-2) and Georgia Tech (3-0) taking on Louisville (5-0). Louisville tuned up Saturday by defeating Xavier of Ohio 76-64.

Packers Assured of Tie For NFL Division Title

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Green Bay Packers have clinched a tie for their first Western Conference title since 1944, apparently ending the Baltimore Colts' two-year reign as National Football League kingpins.

And the Packers seem to have gotten one of their biggest assists from a former Vanderbilt star named Billy Wade, who engineered the Los Angeles Rams to a 10-3 victory over the Colts Sunday.

Wade ran 66 yards for the deciding touchdown as the Rams prevented the defending world champions from tying the Packers for first place in the West. Green Bay broke a three-way tie Saturday, sloshing to a 13-0 victory over San Francisco in the mud of Kezar Stadium.

However, the Colts' loss, and a 23-14 Detroit victory over Dallas has created another three way tie—this time for second place—in the conference. Baltimore, San Francisco and the Lions, each 6-5, trail Green Bay by a game. The Packers are 7-4, with the regular season coming to a close this weekend.

Then, Los Angeles will try to play spoiler twice in a row, meeting Green Bay, while the Colts play San Francisco. Detroit meets the Chicago Bears, creating the possibility of a three-way tie if the Packers lose and two of the other three win.

The Bears were eliminated by Cleveland, 42-0, with the latter retaining a half game edge for second place in the Eastern Conference over the New York Giants.

The Giants, plagued by five inches of snow in Washington, beat the Redskins, 17-3, to set up a showdown for runnerup in the East next Sunday with the Browns.

The Eastern champion Philadelphia Eagles suffered their first loss since opening day as Pittsburgh held on for a 27-21 upset.

In the American League, Houston clinched the Eastern championship with a 31-23 triumph over Buffalo after Los Angeles had rabbed the Western title by defeating Denver 41-33 in a Saturday game. Dallas thumped Boston 34-0 and New York edged Oakland 31-28 on Sunday's program.

The Rams (3-6-1) completely humiliated Baltimore's offense-laden Colts, snapping Johnny Unitas' TD-a-game streak at 47 while handing the reeling champs their third straight setback.

Baltimore, failing to score a touchdown for the first time since a 1956 loss to Detroit, took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter on Steve Myhra's nine-yard field goal. It stood up until Wade electrified the crowd of 75,461 in Los Angeles' Memorial Coliseum.

Although he failed to connect for a TD, Unitas gained 182 yards through the air and broke the NFL one-season record for yards gained passing with 2,939. That eclipsed Sammy Baugh's 1947 mark by one yard.

Hornung, who has scored a record 165 points, kicked a 38-yard field goal with 51 seconds remaining in the first half for what proved to be all the points Green Bay needed in their muddy showdown struggle with the 49ers.

Quarterback Earl Morrall, getting the starting assignment after his last-play 65-yard TD heave beat the Colts last week, guided the Lions to the triumph that made Dallas (6-1-1) the first NFL team since 1944 to go through a season without a victory. Nick Pietrosante scored twice for Detroit on 43 and 40-yard runs.

The seven Cleveland interceptions of Ed Brown and Zeke Bratkowski tossed were run back 213 yards—an NFL record. Bernie Parrish returned one steal 92 yards for a touchdown and Bobbot by Franklin rambled 31 and 37 yards for scores while continually harassing the Bears' (5-5-1) air attack.

John Henry Johnson was the show on a snow-covered field for the Steelers (5-5-1). He took a seven-yard pass from Bobby Layne for one touchdown, raced 87 yards—longest in the league this season—for another score and wound up his performance against Philadelphia (9-2) with an 18-yard TD strike to Buddy Dial.

Washington (13-2) led 3-0 on Bob Khayat's first-period field goal before Charley Conerly flipped a nine-yard scoring pass to Joe Morrison in the third quarter and started the Giants moving.

HOFFA 'PARTNERS'—Robert McCarthy (upper) looks glum and Henry Lower (lower) hides his face after being arrested in Detroit in the federal indictment charging mail fraud along with Teamsters President James Hoffa. They and Hoffa are accused of misuse of more than $500,000 in union funds in a Florida land development scheme. A grand jury in Orlando, Fla., indicted them.

Here's Top Ten Business News Stories of '60

Analyst Gives Views
On Lag by Industry,
Prestige of Dollar

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — Industry's hesitation waltz and the debated prestige of the dollar have vied for the headlines in 1960. And here, in one man's opinion, are the 10 top business stories in a year that leaves a lot of people more perplexed as it ends than when it began.

1. The recession puzzle. Is it or isn't it? And if this is only an adjustment, when will we be adjusted? The story has run almost the whole year through—industrial production faltering, unemployment high and rising now, steel output making one disappointing headline after another, business trimming spending on plant and equipment and hesitant about the new year, inventory policy turning hand-to-mouth and stubbornly refusing to change back to build-up.

2. The gold loss and the dollar's reputation. In the last three years some $11 billion more have gone out of the country than have come in, and $5 billion of these expatriated dollars have been turned into gold—our gold. Some Europeans wondered out loud if the U.S. dollar is as impregnable as it once was. For a brief period the value of gold on the London market was bid up to $6 more than the U.S. price of $35 an ounce. Angry or startled denials of dollar weakness or devaluation plans came from both sides of the Atlantic. To slow down the outflow of dollars and gold President Eisenhower made front-page headlines with cost cutting devices, such as bringing home dependents of U.S. military forces overseas.

3. The stock market. Tumbling prices hogged the business headlines in the early weeks of the year. Through the remainder of 1960 partial recoveries and subsequent backslidings alternately comforted the optimistic or caused the timid and cautious to shiver. Mutual fund sales slowed.

4. Easier money. The Federal Reserve Board relaxed its tight money policy as business slowed. It cut its discount rate from 4 to 3½ per cent in June, dropped stock margins to 70 per cent from 90 per cent in July, cut the discount rate again in August to 3 per cent, freed more bank reserves for lending in November and December. The banks, themselves cut their prime lending rate to 4½ per cent from 5 per cent in August. But at year's end bank loans to business had responded only feebly to easier money moves, the steam had gone out of the consumer installment purchases, and housing starts were lagging.

5. The election enigma. Business took a wait and see stance uncertain just what President-elect Kennedy might be planning or what Congress would approve.

6. The profit squeeze. Faltering sales in some industries clipped profit margins. In others, sales

Officials Sound New Warning About Yule Parties, Drinking

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Christmas parties—those in which the spirit is primarily alcoholic—again are under fire.

Simply stated, it's because many officials feel such parties give the participants an opportunity to drink too much in too short a time, usually when they're not accustomed to much drinking in the first place.

The result: They get into their cars at a season when the weather is most severe and deceptive, when daylight hours are at a minimum, when pedestrians have their minds on other things, and finally when their own reactions are seriously handicapped.

The stage is set for tragedy. At a recent meeting in the office of J. Grant Keys, the state's highway safety director, several officials voiced comments.

From one of the vice-presidents of the Buckeye State Sheriffs' Association, Sheriff Stacy R. Hall of Franklin County:

"Even if we stop the intoxicated motorists, our deputies have to act as their own paddy wagon and bring him in. Coming in from out in the county takes time and it takes a cruiser out of patrol service."

A hopeful note from a past president of the Ohio Association of Chiefs of Police, Chief George W. Scholer of Columbus:

"People have begun to realize office parties aren't all they're supposed to be. A good substitute for the drinking parties are family-type affairs, particularly for children of the firm's employees."

Highway Safety Director Keys: "During this holiday period, according to national statistics, liquor's role as a causative agent in traffic accidents doubles."

THE COURT APPROVED—Italian actress Leticia Roman, 19, hugs her second American motion picture contract in Hollywood after winning court approval of a minimum of $10,000 with Twentieth Century-Fox next year. She also is under contract with Paramount.

Arraignment Awaited In Fatal Beating Case

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Samuel J. Yates, 57, accused of throwing a wine bottle that hit Earl Shelton in the head, and then beating Shelton with his fists, was to be arraigned today in Municipal Court on a second-degree murder charge. Shelton, 58, who had no known address, died Thursday, a day after receiving the fatal injuries during a drinking party here. A witness told police the fracas started after Shelton made an indecent proposal to a woman friend of Yates.

Falls are the leading cause of accidental deaths among persons 65 and over.
